When asked about the significance of this award, Founder and CEO, Michael S. Rogers stated, “For Securityhunter, it is a privilege to work with the DCMA. We have many Department of Defense clients whom often ask for this type of contract vehicle so this allows us to provide much needed services throughout the agency. We are currently working with federal customers to provide a roadmap and execution plan to comply with the recent directive from Congress (Section 889 of the final National Defense Authorization Act for FY2019), that addresses the removal of certain Chinese surveillance products from sensitive military installations. This new contract vehicle is ideally suited to fulfill this urgent requirement. This BPA has promise to provide continued trajectory of growth through 2023.”

Contract Manager, Xanne Luera commented, “We are so fortunate to work with the exceptionally forward-thinking U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Program Support Center’s Acquisition Management Services on another BPA and admire their ability to partner with Federal Agencies in pursuit of leveraging simplified contracting solutions that enable Security Managers to execute their strategic security goals.
