

Securityhunter, Inc.: Here We Grow Again!

Baltimore, MD November 23, 2015

Securityhunter Continues to Grow By Promoting One of Its Own and Hiring Four New Employees

As Securityhunter continues to win multiple awards, four new employees, one engineer, one procurement specialist, and one program management support specialist, have been hired. Engineer, James “Jim” Russ, has over twenty years’ experience in the electronic federal security systems arena. Alex Elbert, CTO says of Jim, “Jim is very knowledgeable and is an experienced engineer. His addition to the Securityhunter Engineering Team makes our team even stronger”.

Patricia “Patty” Fuerer, Program Management Support Specialist, serves as support staff for the newest and largest program recently awarded to Securityhunter. “Patty is a tremendous addition to Securityhunter and our SSA team.” says, President, Daniel Prochnow, of Patty’s presence. “She possesses a great work effort, outstanding organizational skills, and an attention to detail manner, along with an engaging personality”. Also hired is Procurement Specialist Robert Thaggard, who will be assisting in the purchase of equipment needed for the various jobs.

Congratulations are also in order for Amanda Wasey, who was promoted from Controller to the position of Director of Finance and Administration. The new position expands Amanda’s responsibilities to include supervision of Contracts, Human Resources, Procurement and the Accounting Department. When asked about the new position, Amanda responded, “It is a pleasure working with the leadership of Securityhunter. The personnel with whom I interface are professional, knowledgeable and have helped create a growing, successful company that is a truly great place to work.”.

Securityhunter, Inc. is always on the move and until next time...here we grow again!
