Securityhunter, Inc., located in Baltimore, Maryland, lands 10 year GSA agreement to offer IT services through the Federal Supply Schedule – Schedule 70

Securityhunter, Inc., a nationally ranked provider of electronic and logical security to the federal government, has been awarded a Schedule 70 GSA contract to offer IT services to federal and state governments. Securityhunter, a GSA Schedule 84 since 1999, used that contract to land over $200,000,000 in federal awards over the past 7 years alone. With the convergence of IT logical security and physical security technologies, Securityhunter will be able to maintain its growth rate in the coming years by further expanding into the IT marketplace.

"We have over $500,000,000 in contract vehicles that we can use to move our IT contracts for the next five years" says Michael S. Rogers, CEO and Founder. "Our clients that currently rely on us for providing security services, are now able to reach us at a lower price point as we negotiated discounts to federal agencies that use the GSA schedule."

"We have been growing steadily through organic growth - up 40x in just four years. Major contracts are coming on line now and this GSA Schedule will allow us to meet our goal of $80,000,000 in sales for 2016" says Amanda Wasey
